FACULTIES

TRAINING

“Bejaia University has implemented training programs that are increasingly in line with the world of work. This approach has allowed it to identify the needs of its partners from the economic sector in term of human resources and competences. Moreover, the university offers a wide range of specialties including 57 specialties in undergraduate level, 102 specialties in master level and 215 specialties in PhD.”

the mobility of teachers-researchers, students and academic staff.

Therefore, the university aims to build bridges of exchange of experiences and skills, as well as the improvement of teaching methods, boosting scientific research, and building a strong and sustainable cooperation network. Thanks to this rich and diverse network, Bejaia University has participated in several international programs as a partner such as Erasmus+ (“Capacity Building in HE”: SATELIT, INSTART, ESAGOV, EL @ N, Ci-RES et DIGITAC, “ICM” and “Jean Monnet Action “), and also exchange programs like “MEVLANA “ and previously Erasmus Mundus and Tempus.

The University of Bejaia also participates in numerous bilateral and multilateral research projects. In this context, various mobilities and research activities were realized with different Higher Education institutions across Europe. In term of capacity building, many structures were created: Quality Assurance Cell, Communication Cell, Cell of Support, Awareness Accompaniment and Mediation (CASAM), Office of Innovation and Technology Transfer ...etc. Several research projects were approved as well, most notably with France «CMEP/Tassili, PHC Maghreb, CNRS/DEF, SAFIR, and AIMS », Spain (PCIM), Belgium, Italy, South Africa, Canada and Tunisia.

Thanks to all this dynamics, the Times Higher Education has classified Bejaia University First national university for the second consecutive year at the national scale, and it is ranked in the range (601–800) at the international scale. As part of continuous improvement initiatives, the university is aware of current and future challenges and is gradually creating a culture of excellence in teaching, research and the impact on its environment.
